Since the first date of this sheet we have heard that the colored people from the South are by scores coming in to Kansas but we have heard of more near us-but quite a number have been sent to Topeka time to much to ask you to answer this, but if you can conveniently at some leisure moment I would be much obliged. I saw in some paper that a company of colored persons were about to make a settlement in the Indian Territory West of Kansas.

I almost wish I could go with them. My health is very good and if I should continue to enjoy the same till they get settled I am sure I shall visit them some time. Indians often camp in a grove on the Stream called the Wild Cat, in sight from our door. We are 25 or 30 miles only, north of the Indian Territory.

and whether his sister's husband was living for I hardly knew how to address them. Will you have the kindness to tell if Wendell Phillips' lecture on the Lost Arts has ever been published? If so, I have never heard of it, and I thought it would be very interesting if it could be obtained. How many many of your early coworkers have gone to the higer life — C. C. Burleigh, Geo. Thompson and a multitude of others I know it is impossible for you not to be interested in the Woman Suffrage Qestion for it comes under your ban of Liberty for All I am much interest in your Boston lady workers particularly in Mrs. Howe, she is such an advocate of the Peace Question. Dear Friend Wm Lloyd Garrison

Today is Sunday. I commenced to reread your Beautiful Memorial of your precious Helen, and when I read the letter you presented her on her fiftieth birth day my tears of joy fell copiously and I determined not to group those noble countenances with others however much I may love them, for it would be to much like allowing unholy hands to touch you.

I have devoted a frame to those pictures alone, in memory of that holy union that existed between you. I think there are but few such perfect

I pray rest upon you, as the prayer of your admiring friend
